The effect of S parameter measurement errors resulting from vector network analyzer uncertainties on RF MOSFET parameter extraction were analyzed [1]. The uncertainty effects on the MOSFET small signal equivalent circuit were studied. The lower uncertainty specification of a high-end HP 8510B network analyzer were used as the basis for the analysis.

For instance, $R_{in}$ extraction has been inaccurate at lower frequencies.